Pet Care

Non Toxic Mineralise Pet Care

The natural alternative to building a healthy pet from the inside
A healthy pet is a happy pet

Minerals for Pets.

Animals obtain their mineral nutrition through the food they eat. In an ideal world our pets would roam free hunting and eating roots and grasses and getting minerals from the ground they eat from and in the water they drink. In reality many pets are locked up in small back yards or houses and fed chlorinated water and processed foods, including human leftover foods, which are vastly from their natural diet.

Minerals in animals are needed to help your pet mature, maintain energy and help prevent health problems. Your pet's mineral requirements will vary depending on their weight, age, breed and available food intake.

PN Pet Minerals are a concentrated broad spectrum mineral formula derived from a selection of sea minerals and sea plants, minerals from pristine deposits of age old healing plants and herbs, dolomite, bentonite, diatomite, MSM sulphur, kelp (with trace iodine), coral minerals and organically grown herbs, garlic extract, onion extract, green barley leaf, celery leaves, leek, parsley, cress (water and garden), chive, lovage, basil, and other essential herb and plant derived minerals and nutrients.

The combined ingredients in this product include a broad spectrum of over 74+ plant minerals. A broad spectrum of minerals may assist with the replacement of many of the minerals that your pet may be lacking in their diet. Plant minerals derived from an organic or natural source are by far more available to animals than synthetic or mineral salts. Plant derived minerals have already been digested through a process called photosynthesis

Pet Shampoo

In today's world our pets are spending more time in our own living area so it is important to keep our pets clean. Even though our pets are domesticated they are still animals and may carry some unwanted animals bugs and diseases. Your pet's skin can also be sensitive to chemicals causing rashes and itchiness. Just like us, animals can absorb toxins through their skin so it is important to use natural products to wash our pets. Paradise Nutrients Pet Shampoo contains aloe vera leaf extract, coconut extract, castor oil emulsifier, vegetable glycerine, sodium chloride, citric acid, canpres-PNDPD herbal preservative citric acid, lemon myrtle, tea tree, eucalyptus and other essential oils. Our minerals and amino acids are derived from age old healing plants and herbs, are free from sodium lauryl and laureth sulphate, animal by-products, petrochemicals, artificial fragrances and colours and are Phosphate Free.
